

DROWNS IN QUARRY

Boy Goes Down in Deep Water and Body is Lost.

FOSTORIA, O., Aug. 9—Michael Altwels, eighteen, of New Riegel, drowned while swimming in Holoran's stone quarry at noon yesterday. He swam out and suddenly sank before companions know anything was wrong.

After hours had been spent in fishing and diving for the body, dynamite was used without effect. The quarry is abandoned, the water being thirty feet or more in depth and ice cold beneath the surface.

1909 Aug 18 year old drowns at quarry

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Oct 6, 2024