

Child Buried Picking Coal

Rescued by Companions at Plymouth Pit; Other Ac- cidents Listed

Engulfed when the ground crumpled under her feet, Lucille Rustay, 9, of 293 Fourth street, Plymouth, suffered back and leg injuries on Saturday while picking coal in an abandoned mine opening near her home.

The child was buried and was rescued by other coal pickers. Her condition last night was favorable in Mercy hospital.

1932 Sep child injured picking coal PA

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Dec 13, 2024