

KILLED GETTING COAL

Burgettstown, Pa., March 2. (U.P.)—Crushed by a slide in a coal stripping plant where they had gone to gather coal for their homes, David Crawford, 59, Harmon Creek, was found dead, and his brother Joshua, 45, seriously injured today.

The younger brother's wife, Mrs. Sarah Crawford, found the two men after she and other members of the family had searched all night. They were lying in an excavation, made by a steam shovel at the Harmon Creek coal company's stripping operations.

1933 March Killed getting coal

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Sep 14, 2024