

Youth Drowns At Quarry

The body of John Lamberton, 17, of Cockeysville, was recovered from an abandoned quarry off the 10000 block York road late yesterday about two hours after he drowned while swimming with a friend.

Police were told that young Lamberton had dived off high rocks into the water and was climbing up for another dive when he slipped.

He apparently injured himself in plunging back into the water and did not come up, police said.
