15-year-old boy drowns in a quarry in Lebanon

LEBANON (UPI) — A 15-year-old boy drowned Thursday evening while swimming in an abandoned quarry, police said.

Lebanon County police said Louis Valez was swimming with some cousins at about 5:30 p.m. when he became tired and went under. Police said a couple tried to help the boy, but he apparently panicked, grabbing at the two and pulling them under.

The two broke away and the boy drowned, police said.

1983 Aug Louis Valez drowns at quarry PA