

Man drowns in quarry

OZARK (AP) — The Johnson County Sheriff's Office says a 63-year-old Ozark man has drowned while swimming in a rock quarry with friends.

The sheriff's office says Leonard Gates was swimming Saturday afternoon in a private rock quarry when he briefly went under the water. Authorities say he was pulled from the water and witnesses administered CPR until emergency crews arrived.

The sheriff's office says Gates was pronounced dead at the scene.

Authorities don't yet know if a medical condition caused Gates to slip below the water. His body has been sent to the state crime laboratory to determine cause of death.

Teen captured after escape from center

MAUMELLE — Authorities say they've captured a 16-year-old boy who escaped from a youth detention facility in Maumelle.

Maumelle police say the teenager escaped from

2012 Jul 63-year-old drowns in quarry

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Sep 25, 2024