

Quarry drowning

Police recovered the body of a Williamstown athlete a day after he disappeared from Jackson Road Blue Hole in Monroe Township.

The Details:

- "He started choking and he just went under," said a man who had been swimming nearby at the time.
- Darius Boyer was a well-liked football player and wrestler. A short makeshift vigil was held that night by students on high school's football field.

2015 Jul Athlete drowns in abandoned NJ
quarry

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Sep 26, 2024