

Man, Unable to Swim, Drowns Cooling in Pool

YORKTOWN, N. Y.—M. W. Goldberg, 26, was drowned in a pond in an old abandoned quarry here, after slipping into a deep hole. He had gone into the pond to cool off, but could not swim. Volunteer workers with grappling irons, under the direction of state troopers, recovered the body after two hours' work.

1925 Sep M W Goldberg drowns at quarry
NY

Clipped By:
usma_rob
Dec 18, 2024