

ESCAPES DROWNING, THEN FALLS DEAD

John Lenz, 67, Believed to Be Victim of Heart Disease.

John Lenz, 67, residing with his wife, Mrs. Mamie Lenz, at 4659 Ashland avenue, fell dead on the pavement in front of 3513 Marcus avenue yesterday afternoon a short time after he had saved himself from drowning in an old quarry in the rear of that address.

Lenz, according to his wife, left his home yesterday noon to dump some tin cans in the old quarry. He saw a young tree sticking above the water in the abandoned quarry and leaned over to reach it, police were told. He lost his balance and fell in. After a hard struggle, he pulled himself from the water.

Lenz then walked across the street and bought a bottle of soda water in a grocery stores. He had just walked out of the store, when he collapsed on the pavement.

1926 May man dies after self quarry
rescue MO

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Dec 18, 2024