

BOY, 14, IS DROWNED IN ABANDONED QUARRY

GRANITEVILLE, MO., July 2.—Believing himself to be a good swimmer, although he had only a day's experience previously, 14-year-old Lincoln Anderson jumped into the pool of an abandoned quarry near here today and was drowned.

The youth plunged into the deep water, despite the entreaty of his companion, who ran a half mile to summon aid. The body was recovered and taken to the home of his mother, a widow, who has six other children.
