

Bloomington Boy Drowns In Abandoned Quarry

Bloomington, Ind., May 3.—(Special)—Lee George, 10 years old, drowned today when he fell into an abandoned stone quarry near Sanders, south of Bloomington.

The body was recovered two hours after the lad slipped and tumbled into the water while he and two companions were walking along the edge of the Bowman and King stone quarry. It was the first drowning of the season here.

1941 May Lee George drowns at quarry IN

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Dec 28, 2024