

Man Drowns In Quarry At Berwick

BERWICK — State Police and volunteer divers halted recovery operations at 6 p.m. yesterday at a quarry near here after a futile day-long search for the body of a 31-year-old Millville father of four.

Marvin Marr disappeared sometime after leaving home for his job in Berwick on Friday morning. His abandoned automobile was found at the quarry, situated along the route between his home and his job as a mechanic.

A fellow worker noticed the car on his way home from work Friday evening and notified Marr's wife. State Police began grappling and diving operations yesterday morning.
