

TEN DEAD IN BUTTE FIRE

Several Others Are Missing as Result of Fire in Pennsylvania Mine, Which Is Still Burning.

Butte, Feb. 15.—At least 10 miners lost their lives in a fire which started at 9 o'clock last night in the airshaft on the 1200-ft. level of the Pennsylvania mine of the Anaconda Copper Mining company, and which is still burning fiercely at 3 o'clock this morning. A dozen others are missing, but it is believed that all but three or four of these went home without reporting off shift. Two of the dead, William Mitchell, assistant foreman, and Neil Brennan, were overcome by smoke and gas while engaged in rescue work on the 600-ft. level.

to the hospital and in all probability will recover. A half-dozen others, who were "knocked out" down below, were revived at the collar of the shaft and sent to their homes in taxicabs.

The cause of the fire is unknown.

General tin-Americans

so pronounced," the report says. "In some countries, such as Ecuador, it is impossible to arrive at any accurate estimate. In such advanced countries as Brazil some estimates reach as high as 80 per cent."

In view of the fact that in most of the southern republics large masses of the populations are Indians who have scarcely emerged from barbarism, the commission sees no possibility of any material advance in education in the immediate future. The great need, it points out, is for some industrial or agricultural training.

At the same time the commission finds that there is the keenest possible interest in the question of education in prac-

The known dead:

Zebrina Bardwell, 320 East Mercury street.

Pete Kelley, 58 West Galena.

John Soderman, 24 South Gaylord.

George Tippet, 117 Wing avenue.

Jack Brennan, 230 South Montana.

William Doherty, Hazel block.

William Brennan, 22 South Montana.

William Mitchell, assistant foreman Pennsylvania mine.

Neil Brennan.

Unidentified man.

Three men overcome by smoke, Thomas Cooney, Al Coyle and Lester Buchanan, were taken

Vote a New I Against Ge

San Francisco, Feb. 14—The federal grand jury returned another indictment each today in the bomb plot cases against Franz Bopp, consul general for Germany here; Baron E. H. Von Schack, vice-consul for Germany; Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken, a lieutenant of the German army connected with the German consulate; Charles C. Crowley and Mrs. Margaret Cornell, detectives employed by the consulate; J. H. Van Koolbergen and Louis J. Smith.

All are charged in eight counts with conspiring to blow up ammunition factories, railroads and trains in the United States, and steamers carrying munitions of war from the United States ports to