

The Luke Fidler Fire.

Mine Inspector Brennan, Maguire and Stein visited the air holes leading from the Coal Run workings of the burning Luke Fidler mine yesterday morning and found that the pressure is still very high, which signifies that there is still fire inside. The water has raised in the new shaft to the No. 1 slope bottom and is now running down into the latter workings. The No. 2 slope has been filled with wet culm.

1894 Luke Fidler Mine fire NEWS5

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Sep 21, 2025