
Boy Lost in a Mine.

William Sanderson, aged 14 years, worked three days in the slope of the Hillside Company's mine at Avoca, when on Thursday he was sent in the mine to notify the men that there would be no more work for the day. In trying to make his way to where the men were he entered one of the former workings and lost his way. He traveled all night and was found by a searching party yesterday morning. His clothes were all torn in his attempt to climb out. The searching party was headed by superintendent Thomas H. Evans, who worked energetically all night and prevented work in the mine until the boy was found.

1895 Fourteen year old boy gets lost and rescued in the Hillside Co mine

Clipped By:

usmra_rob
Sun, Jul 18, 2021