

NEVADA MINER BURIED ALIVE

Rescue Party at Fairview, However,
Saves His Life by Quick
Work

By Associated Press.

FALLON, Nev., May 2.—While working on the stope in a mine at Fairview today Felix Noe was buried under thirty-seven feet of dirt, rock and timbers, which caved in on him.

A rescue party worked for hours getting him out. He was badly injured internally.

1906 Felix Noe rescued after cave-in

Clipped By:

usmra_rob
Mon, Feb 1, 2021