

MINER FALLS 124 FEET.
Scranton, November 6—John Duff, a Greenwood colliery miner who walked into a shaft and fell a distance of 124 feet yesterday, is not only alive, but, as far as can be ascertained by the doctors, is not seriously injured. There was a foot of water in the place where he landed.

1909 John Duff survives 124 ft shaft fall at Greenwood colliery

Clipped E

usmra_1

Sat, Jan 15, 2