

TRAPPED IN MINE 17 HOURS

Miner Imprisoned by Falling Breast Is Rescued.

Shamokin, Pa., Dec. 30.—After 17 hours of perilous work in the Cameron mine, rescuers, headed by General Superintendent Rinehardt and Mine Inspector McLaughlin, took out Wm. Faust at 9 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

When the barriers of coal which had fallen between his place of working and the next breast were removed he made a noise which was heard by the rescuers. He was not seriously injured.

1910 Wm Faust rescued from Cameron Mine after 17 hrs

Clipped By:

usmra_rob
Mon, Feb 7, 2022