

Cokedale Mine Was a Model.

Denver, Feb. 9.—Franklin Guiterman, general manager of the American Smelting and Refining company, which operates the Cokedale mines, received a telegram from his representative at Trinidad stating that two of the men in the Cokedale mine at the time of the explosion had been rescued alive. Mr. Guiterman was preparing to leave on a special train for the scene of the explosion tonight. The Cokedale mine is the property of the Carbon Coal company and has been known for years as the model coal mine of Colorado.
