

ENTOMBED MINER IS RESCUED

(By United Press)

CARBONDALE, Pa., Feb. 8

Joseph Spatz, 32, employed at Racketbrook colliery, was injured seriously late yesterday afternoon while alone in his section of the mine and was not located until 2:30 o'clock this morning, when a searching party of six men entered the mine after they learned from his family that he did not return at his usual hour last evening. After being located he was hurried to the Emergency Hospital. He is unconscious and his condition is serious today. His injuries are about the head and shoulders where a fall of roof struck him.
