

CENSORSHIP PLACED ON DETAILS OF THE DAWSON MINE BLAST

Denver, Colo., Feb. 8.—A correspondent of The Rocky Mountain News who returned to Raton, N. M., from Dawson tonight, telephoned the News that the Phelps-Dodge corporation, owner of Mine No. 1, where 122 miners were entombed today, had established a censorship and was refusing to give newspaper correspondents details of the accident.

According to the News correspondent, no newspaper dispatches are leaving Dawson without the sanction of the company, which is withholding such details as the extent of damage to the mine, rescue work and other matter of interest to the public.

RED CROSS WILL SEND RELIEF WORKERS TO THE DAWSON MINE

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 8.—Dr. B. F. Jenness, chairman of the disaster committee of the El Paso chapter, American Red Cross, immediately after receipt of news of the mine disaster at Dawson, N. M., today, began preparations to send relief workers to Dawson. Dr. Jenness will head the party.

Journal Want Ads. bring results

QUIT TOBACCO

So Easy to Drop Cigarette.

1923 Stag Canon mine explosion NEWS

Clipped By:
usmra_rob
Oct 1, 2025