

THREE TRAPPED IN COAL MINE RESCUED

(By the United Press.)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Dec. 7.
Three men, trapped by a fall of coal, 200 feet long, in the Brock mine of the Continental Coal Company at Cassville were rescued early today.

A crew of 100 men were at work with cutting machines in the hope of saving the lives of the three. It was thought they might have been crushed by the fall.

The men were Sam Kratchen and two negroes.

1929 Three miners trapped in the Brock mine rescued

Clipped By:

usmra_rob

Wed, May 5, 2021