

Miner Is Rescued From Filling Mine by Fire Company

ANGELS CAMP, Jan. 30.— (A) — Gus May, miner, narrowly escaped death today while at work on a filled shaft of the Utica Mine, 2,000 feet below the ground.

The fill began to sink and the fire department battled mud and water to rescue him from the muck.

May was unhurt but suffered from chills.

1935 Gus May rescued from sinking shaft by fire company

Clipped By:

usmra_rob
Wed, Mar 17, 2021