

Worker Is Released From Mine Tunnel

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2.—(UP)—Ed Olinger, 41-year-old hard rock miner trapped in a deep underground tunnel through which he sought to reach a hidden chamber believed to contain buried treasure, was freed by firemen late tonight.

Olinger was hurried to a hospital where his legs were found to be paralyzed. The condition was believed to be only temporary, however. He had been buried for hours up to his armpits in fallen earth.

1935 Trapped treasure hunter rescued after being buried for hours

Clipped By:

usmra_rob

Wed, Jun 23, 2021