

FATHER OF H.S. GRADUATE DIES

Jos. Terway, 45, of Seltzer City, an independent miner injured when he was entombed in a coal hole near Greenbury Wednesday afternoon, died in the Good Samaritan Hospital at 3:20 o'clock Friday afternoon of internal injuries and multiple fractures.

He is survived by his wife, Catherine nee Burke, and these children, Francis, a member of the graduating class of the Pottsville High School, Elwood, Genevieve, Anthony, Lawrence and Ronald. The youngest of the children is two months old.

1940 Joseph Terway rescued from Greenbury coal hole dies 2 days later
