

WILLIAM FISHER OF KULPMONT RESCUED ALIVE

Covered By Fall
Of Coal And Rock
In Bootleg Mine
North Of Kulpmont

William Fisher, 37, of 1319 Chestnut street, Kulpmont, is in Shamokin State Hospital with a probable fracture of the pelvis, sustained when covered by a fall of coal and rock this morning at 9:00 o'clock in a bootleg mine north of Kulpmont.

According to the hospital report, Fisher was in shock when admitted but his condition is not believed to be critical.

Fisher was saved from suffocation when his brother, Arthur, with whom he was working, immediately summoned John Dulls and Robert Mummaw, and all three dug him out in less than a half hour.

Firemen from both companies at Kulpmont were on hand with pulmotors when Fisher was brought to the surface, but the pulmotors were not needed.

The bootleg mine where Fisher was covered is about 50 feet deep.

Police Investigate Robbery Case Here

State Police and borough authorities today were continuing an investigation into a robbery at the Varano automobile service station, Seventh and Oak streets.

Fifteen dollars in change were stolen in the robbery Tuesday night or early yesterday morning.

Police said the thief evidently used a key to gain entrance to the place.

McGrath Trial
In Tenth Day
At Pottsville

More Witnesses
Are Heard In Trial
In Schuylkill

Difficulty was experienced by the

1941 William Fisher rescued from bootleg mine cavein near Kulpmont

