

Mine Worker Killed

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Paul Novak, 35, Curtisville, was killed early today while working at the Newfield mine of Republic Steel Corp. Company officials said he suffered a broken back when he was caught between a boom and the mine wall.

1956 Paul Novak killed at Newfield mine

Clipped By:

usmra_rob

Thu, Dec 28, 2023

Boom Kills Miner

Paul Novak, 35-year-old Curtisville coal miner, died instantly of a broken neck early today when he was caught between a boom and the mine well at the Newfield Mine of Republic Steel Co., coroners' deputies said.

1956 Paul Novak killed at Newfield mine

Clipped By:

usmra_rob

Thu, Dec 28, 2023

Mine Accident Kills Curtisville Man

Paul Novak, 35, of Curtisville, was fatally injured early yesterday while working in the Newfield mine, North Bessemer, Plum Township. The coroner's office said the victim suffered a crushed back when he was caught between a cutting machine and the mine wall.

1956 Paul Novak killed at Newfield mine

Clipped By:

usmra_rob

Thu, Dec 28, 2023