

Boy Hiker Rescued From Mine Shaft

A 17-year-old Concord high school boy, out hiking yesterday with friends, fell into an abandoned coal mine shaft and had to be hauled to safety by Concord firemen.

The youth, Charles Frederickson, of 3766 Walnut Ave., was able to strap himself into a stretcher firemen lowered and was pulled the 30 feet to the top.

He was under treatment for back injuries today at Concord Community Hospital.

1967 Seventeen yr old Charles Frederickson rescued after fall into mine

Clipped By:

usmra_rob
Thu, Jul 22, 2021