Boy Rescued From Mine Shaft

Westfield, Mass. (AP)—A 10-year-old Chester boy who was rescued from an abandoned 70-foot mine shaft Saturday afternoon was reported yesterday in fair condition in a hospital.

Gary Lutat was exploring with two friends when he fell into the shaft, after trying to climb down using a clothesline.

He suffered a fractured pelvis and cut left arm in the 60-foot fall.

1971 Ten year old boy rescued from abandoned Emery mine

Clipped By:

usmra_rob
Tue, Jul 20, 2021