

Youth Rescued From Mine Shaft

CHESTER, Mass. (AP) — An 18-year-old Westfield youth who became trapped while exploring a mine shaft here was pulled to safety Monday afternoon, state police said.

Felix Munez became trapped after he lowered himself to the bottom of a 90-foot shaft while exploring with a companion, identified as Richard J. Barus of Manchester, N.H., state police said.

1974 Felix Munez rescued after he became trapped in mine

Clipped By:

usmra_rob

Mon, Dec 20,
2021