

---

ENTOMBED MINER RESCUED FROM SHAFT

---

Shamokin, July 13, (AP)—Michael Shurpenski, 45-year-old miner, recuperated in the Shamokin State Hospital after being saved from death in a mountain coal hole, where he was entombed for nearly an hour. He was rescued by WPA workers employed on a nearby road project.

Harrisburg Telegraph, July 13, 1938