

MISSING WOMAN IS FOUND IN MINE CAVE

Mrs. Loretta Kehler, 71 years of age, of Branchdale, in Schuylkill county, has been found alive in a mine cave near the Otto colliery, after being missing from her home for a week. Despite her long absence of food and exposure to the elements, she had rallied well at her home yesterday and seemed out of all danger of suffering serious ill effects from her experience. A party of men who had given chase to a rabbit, heard her cries and rescued her.

Standard Sentinel
November 7, 1922