
Entombed Miner Rescued

SEATTLE, Wash., April 30. (A. P.) Stanley Cooney, 34, was rescued alive and the body of Robert D. Poucette, 24, the second of three men trapped by a fall of earth Monday night in a coal mine at Black Diamond mine was recovered by rescue workers yesterday. Hope of recovering the body of O. C. Wise, 35, the third man, was given up last night.

The Buffalo Commercial, April 30, 1924