Berserk Gunman Kills 8 Persons At Chester, Pa.

Police Are Unable To Explain Shooting

CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 7 (AP)—Barricading himself in a second floor room overlooking Chester's business district, a berserk gunman killed eight persons, wounded three others then fired the last 30 bullets into his own brain.

It was a mad battle that Melvin Collins, 38-year-old negro from Emmure, Va., started yesterday morning after he shot from his bedroom window. "Call the cops,"

Police had no explanation for the shooting which they theorized started this way:

A game fell out of Collins' grasp yesterday near four men gathered in front of a restaurant over which Collins lived.

Henry Gibbs, one of the group, took the game and said, "This was a white man's game."

Apparently this infuriated Collins. Police Chief Andrew J. Desmond, 37, reported: "The negro threw a 22 caliber rifle through the window and started this way."

Edward Byers, 40-one of the seven negroes killed, was a white man—fell dead. The other men scattered to safety.

Two women across the street, attracted by the shooting, started their heads out a window. Louise Moore, 40, was injured. Fatally, Hattie Nichols, 28, was struck in the head. Machine gun bullets and tear gas shells were directed at Collins' window. Several officers went on the strain to the second floor where there was enormous crowd—then a studio shot.

Three policemen pushed back the door to Collins' room. They found the gunman lying beside an un-usable bed. His rifle lay nearby. His body, a single bullet fired through the roof of his mouth shattered his brain.

Youth Surrenders After Gun Battle

GASTONIA, N. C., Nov. 7 (AP)—A youthful member of a gang surrendered to a group of police yesterday after a gun battle in which four persons were wounded.

Ray Aldridge, 21, paroled from prison terms for larceny and robbery, walked from his father's home with his hands in the air.

Police officers had reported a fight, two-way driving with rifle shots, and a man on fire and tear gas.

"I wish they had killed me," the light, tough-looking boy said as he walked with his hands in the air.

Wounded during the gun battle were three persons in the crowd; one of them, a young man, was killed.

Police officers, who were in the crowd, were also wounded. One of them, a young man, was killed.

The elder Aldridge, a teacher, said his son was angry when he refused to use the rifle.

He obtained a rifle and chased his father and brother. He was shot in the chest and arm.

He called police. When Eugene and Louis approached the house, they were shot down.
