

---

A Breaker Boy Killed by Cars.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., April 16.—Molic Addude, 16 years old, a breaker boy at the Nottingham mine, Plymouth, was killed yesterday while going to work. In crossing the track a trip of cars pushed by a breaker locomotive knocked him down and several cars passed over his chest.

---

The Evening Herald, April 16, 1896