Weather A Few Minutes With the Fans' Old Friend.

Newspapers

Bug Holliday-Page 6 FORAKER COMES TO BAT WITH A HOT ROAST OF TEDDY

My MASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—"Iniquitous and unholy WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—"Iniquitous and unholy work" is the way Senator Foraker characterizes the efforts of Herbert J. Browne and Wm. G. Baldwin, special private detectives, employed by the President to fasten the guilt of "shooting up" Brownsville, Tex., upon colored soldiers of the Twenty-fifth Infantry. In the Asmate this afternoon Foraker denounced as

In the Senate this afternoon Foraker denounced as In the Senate this afternoon Foraker denounced as "attrecious lies" the reports that the detectives had secured confessions from the discharged soldiers, and contended that their employment was violation of the law, and that all payments to them, amounting to $15,000, were invalid.

Discussing the employment of the detectives, Fora-ker said it "cannot be fittingly charged without using language which, if employed, might appear disrespect-ful to the Chief Executive."

PRESIDENT'S GRAVE OFFENSE

"It does not lessen the gravity of his (the President's) offense," he continued, "that it appears to be imperceptible to him; or, if not so, he has become utterly oblivious to all the restraints of law, deceney umperceptible to him; or, if not so, he has become utterly oblivious to all the restraints of law, decency and propriety in his mad pursuit of these helpless victims of his ill-considered action.

"I do not, hesitate to say, that, in my opinion, aside from the question whether the his been a misappropriation of public funds, no precedent for anything so shocking can be found in all the history of American criminal jurisprudence."

—GHANGE GRIMS

"Because Browne and Badteun money under the public treasure, and tender the precedent for he public treasure, and the singular to the contract of the money out of the public treasure, and the singular treasure of any perces, furrequiry which has head contract to the corresponding to the contract of the contract of

NOT KNOWING GUNS WERE LOADED WILL

J. H.M., Y.A., Jrn. 12—(Spl.)—
Franklin, Jr. accidentally WOMAN IS ASSAULTED
his best friend, Will Scott,
careleasty handling a platol.
Jing hughfully supped the ag Scott when the gun exy a segar, who draged her from a year of the company of th

INCENDIARY FIRE CAUSES BIG LOSS

COVINGTON, KY., TUESDAY, JANUARY 12, 1909

NATIONAL RED CROSS STAMPS FOR SALE ALL YEAR ROUND 250 MINERS IN WEST VIRGINIA MINE

HUSBAND TRACED BY BLOOD TRAIL; SLAYS WIFE: SHOOTS SELF

BLUE GRASS SUFFERS RE LOADED WILL COST TWO LIVES

ming interruption of service, and day the form of the function car men and firemen, function car men and firemen remained on duty all night. Many accidents are reported.

QUEEN CITY BOY IS NAVY DESERTER

BURTON TO WITNESS HIS OWN ELECTION

OLD BOOSTER STILL ON JOB STORMS ARE FELT ALL OVER STATE

Crape Had Hardly Been Removed From the Homes at Lick Branch Mines, When Second Blast Wrought Death and Disaster.

WELCH, W. VA., Jan. 12.—(Spl.)—The list of those WELUH, W. VA., Jan. 12—(19p1.)—Ane has 0, store killed in Lick Branch mine explosion this morning, it is now believed, may reach 100, although this number may be greatly lessened or increased. It is known that 250 miners were on duty at the time.

WELCH, W. VA., Jan. 12.—(Spl.)—Hardly had the Cape been taken from the doors of many an humble little home on the banks of the Elkhorn, near the Lick Branch colliery, than an explosion which now promises to be more direful than the one of two weeks ago, in which half a hundred lives were lost, occurred and in which shall a nunred lives were lost, occurred and has brought additional sorrow.

Fathers and brothers of some of those killed in the first explosion are known to have been in the ill-fated Lick Branch mine at 8:30 this morning, when the second explosion occurred, and soon their bodies will be laid to rest in the hills nearby, swelling the list of min-

most regain conscious, ministring the decide distance over Carnishment Carnishm

LICK BRANCH IS A "MODEL" MINE
The Lick Branch Mine is represented in Cincinnati by the Cast-ner-Curran-Buillit Co., who has

Rescind Action Confirm-ing Appointments of Re-

Governor Harmon will send

Governor Harris.

TURKEY ACCEPTS