
ENTOMBED MINER RESCUED UNHURT

Pottsville, Pa., April 25.—(By The A. P.)—Charles McCloskey, of Jackson, who was entombed by a fall of rock at the Maple Hill colliery on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock was rescued at 6:50 Tuesday evening and brought to the surface a short time later. He was uninjured, with the exception of slight bruises of the legs.

The News Journal, April 26, 1923