

ENTOMBED MINER RESCUED

Found Uninjured After Being Caught in Tunnel Cave-In.

GLOBE, Ariz., April 29.—E. Castanado, a Mexican miner from this district, entombed in the Cactus mine tunnel, 16 miles from here, for nearly 24 hours, was liberated at 7:30 o'clock last night, according to news brought here today. He was uninjured when reached by the rescue party and apparently suffered no ill effects. A mine rescue party drove through 30 feet of dirt in the tunnel to reach Castanado.

The Spokesman Review, April 30, 1923